

Mikael Borak

Mikael Borak is Vice President and Head of Business Development at Mindset, a training company. He is a Kirkpatrick Certified Facilitator.

Mikael's areas of expertise include training design, performance management, and evaluation methods; he uses his skills in these areas to drive the desired outcomes of training programs around the globe.

As an ex-tank company commander, he is quick in thought and direct in his approach. This has served him well in his roles as COO, CEO, Project Manager, Change Manager and Co-Founder of the Mindset Group, where he has spent the last 14 years developing, delivering and evaluating effective training programs. He loves to create and implement theoretical models that are pragmatic and easy to understand.

Mikael has earned Gold Level Kirkpatrick Four Levels® Evaluation Certification.
